

Reading task – day 10

Have a look in your reading book.

Find a really good description of a character. Why do you like this description? Which adjectives has the author used?

Make a list in your book of words and phrases.

Create your own description of a character from your book.

Challenge

Could you change some of the words and phrases in your description to change the mood of character?

Example:

She wore a long red cloak and her auburn hair tumbled down her back. As she stared into the distance, her frown was fierce.

She wore a short blue cloak and her auburn hair tumbled down her back. As she looked into the distance, a huge smile spread across her face.

Work out which words make the most impact and change the mood of the text.
