Reading – RIC

In today's task, we are going to answer these RIC questions based on this video about R L Stine, the author of the 'Goosebumps' books (<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=DrWKxke42BE>). The first question will be an opportunity to test the retrieval skills that you have been working on this week but in a slightly different way. Just like with a text, the answers to this retrieval question can be found in the video. We hope you enjoy getting to see and hear from the man who wrote the texts that we've been reading over the course of this week.
